

ASSOCIATION FOR STUDIES IN THE CONSERVATION OF HISTORIC BUILDINGS

TALK: Wednesday 11 January 2012
at 6.00 for 6.30pm

The Restoration of Two Model Churches

Colin Kerr, Molyneux Kerr Architects

John James's church of St George Hanover Square, London W1 (c.1720) was a model Commissioner's church. William Butterfield's church of All Saint's Margaret Street, London W1, is his masterwork (built 1849-59 with Butterfield additions to 1895) and was a model church for the Ecclesiologists.

The "restoration" of both interiors including glass has just been completed. The Hanover Square church seems little changed; the Margaret Street church is transformed.
